NYFVI Hosting Informational Webinars About FVI 22 RFP

The New York Farm Viability’s FVI 21 Request for Proposals (RFP) is currently open. The organization is seeking great ideas to solve important problems or leverage significant opportunities. Farmer support makes for a more competitive proposal and the long-term goal must be to improve the economic viability of New York’s farmers. Our program seeks proposals that will create the knowledge that farmers need. Competitive proposals will have clear relevance to New York’s agriculture community, demonstrated producer support, and the ability to deliver farm-level economic impact over time. We believe that agriculture is constantly changing and that it is critical that farmers have sound science to help them evolve their practices.

The informational webinar will be held virtually on three dates. The content will be the same in each session:

- 10:00 am Tuesday August 9, 2022
- 1:30 pm Thursday August 11 2022
- 6:00 pm Wednesday August 17 2022

Attendees will learn more about the types of proposals that resonate with its farmer review panels and specifics about the online application. To learn more about the program, and register for the webinar, click here.

NYFVI is a farmer-led nonprofit organization that runs a competitive grant program for applied research and education. The program seeks to fund work that improves the economic viability of NY farmers and strengthens the food system. Its funding comes primarily from New York State.
