Eligibility
BFQA26002	4/1/2026	I'm wondering if farmers who have "helped" on a farm more than 10 years and are now taking over the operation are eligible? The land and equipment is now just in their name and they just started filing taxes for the operation in the last year or two. The farm was operated by the father and the son is now taking over.	This grant program uses the USDA definition of a farm operator to determine eligibility: "A farm operator is a person who runs the farm, making day-to-day management decisions. An operator could be an owner, hired manager, cash tenant, share tenant, and/or a partner." Applicants who have been a farm operator for 10 or less years, and all other criteria are met, are eligible.

BFQA26016	4/1/2026	Is this grant appropriate for a young, beginning farmer, who does not own the business or property on which they farm?	Assuming all other eligibility requirements are met, applicants must also materially and substantially participate in the management of the farm. So in this circumstance, if the applicant does not own the property, but materially and substantially participates in the day to day management of the farm they would be eligible.
BFQA26017	4/1/2026	Are Non-Profits Eligible?	Non-Profits are not eligible for this grant.

BFQA26020	4/1/2026	Greetings, my partner and I own a multi-faceted business. The primary component is that we haul food scraps and process them into compost. We also grow and sell plants and produce and potting mixes made from our compost. We would like to apply for a grant that would support the composting side of our business but are not sure how you perceive composting operations in terms of eligible expenses.	In order to be eligible, the applicant must be working for a For Profit Agricultural enterprise. The composting side of your business would not be eligible.
BFQA26022	4/1/2026	Can you submit more than one project per household - example one project for husband's farm business and one project for wife's farm business as they are different businesses?	Applications are based on the applicant, not the household. In this circumstance, if both people were working for independent for-profit agricultural enterprises, and all other eligibility requirements are met, than both would be eligible
BFQA26025	4/1/2026	Is a start up nursery eligible to apply?	Nurseries are eligible for this grant.
BFQA26032	4/1/2026	Is the 10th year eligible? If the farm started in 2016 would you still be eligible to apply?	Yes, if you have been operating for 10 years or less you are eligible.

BFQA26045	4/1/2026	I'm wondering if farmers who have "helped" on a farm more than 10 years and are now taking over the operation are eligible? The land and equipment is now just in their name and they just started filing taxes for the operation in the last year or two. The farm was operated by the father and the son is now taking over.	This grant program uses the USDA definition of a farm operator to determine eligibility: "A farm operator is a person who runs the farm, making day-to-day management decisions. An operator could be an owner, hired manager, cash tenant, share tenant, and/or a partner." Applicants who have been a farm operator for 10 or less years are eligible.
BFQA26046	4/1/2026	Our farm has operated one type of farming since 2001, and we added a second type in 2020. Would we qualify if we are requesting funding to expand processing equipment for the newer enterprise? We are new farmers with respect to this second type of farming within our existing farm.	Eligibility is based upon the applicant, not the enterprise. If the applicant has been a farm operator for more than 10 years in any type of farming they are no longer eligible.
BFQA26047	4/1/2026	I just reviewed the application portal, and it seems like there are requirements that applicants have a preexisting business, or involvement with a university? Does the architecture of the grant work to support smaller efforts? Suggestions or information would be very helpful. Thanks!	The full list of Technical Requirements can be found here: https://nyfvi.org/grant-programs/producer-grants/beginning-farmer/2026-bf/ This grant does support smaller efforts, however, if you have not had at least $1,000 in sales in the previous year you must submit a business plan.
BFQA26048	4/1/2026	Does an indoor Hydroponic system in a basement count as a "farm" for the beginning farmer FVI program?	All applications must be in support of a For-Profit Agricultural Enterprise, so if the hydroponic system is being used for profit in a formal business sense than it would be eligible.
BFQA26049	4/1/2026	The question with the beginning farmer grant for this farm is three sisters are together in an S-corp. They all have separate rolls in this operation though meet weekly, and can think of many projects, so can they apply for separate grants? Actually, two of the husbands (not part of the S-Corp) also have ag businesses and would like to apply. Will this help or hurt their chances.	This is the Beginning Farmer Competitive Grant. This means that eligibility is primarily based upon the Applicant, not the business. That being said, applications are restricted to one per applicant and one per business. As to the competitiveness of that approach, it is not for NYFVI to say which way is the most competitive. Given the competitive nature of this program, it would be inappropriate. We encourage all applicants to refer to the program webpage: https://nyfvi.org/grant-programs/producer-grants/beginning-farmer/2026-bf/

The applicant must document proof of purchase and project implementation prior to payment from NYFVI. It is important to note that no cost may be incurred prior to Contract Execution, or both NYFVI and the applicant signing the contract. All applicants are required to document a 5% match. BFQA26031	4/1/2026	If grants are approved in September and the project is completed by late September or early October when can we expect reimbursement? Any cost incurred before an executed contract will be ineligible. After project completion, reimbursement may take up to 120 days after the reimbursement material is accepted by staff.
